“ Dear Uncle Wally was unfailingly kind and amazingly optimistic about life. He encouraged his nieces and nephews--he was supportive of our work and proud of our accomplishments. I am a historian and I liked to send him copies of my publications--he always seemed appreciative and was congratulatory. His daughter said he read every word. So sweet. I feel profoundly grateful to have visited him in August with my brother and father. It meant a great deal to all of us to be together again and to hear him and my father share stories of their youth. So sad it was our last opportunity.

“ Wally as my oldest brother remained close as a family member and friend. Throughout my life he was constant in his support, a close advisor, and one who possessed a great sense of humor. He was proud of his Marine service and set the example for brothers, Roger, Hugh and me to follow. Three of us, Wally, Roger and I served together for a brief period in 1951 during the Korean War. Rog and I enjoyed recalling a time when we were visiting Wally & Nancy who, during his Marine service, were living in Carlsbad, CA. I took a sip of a drink that he had just mixed and the entire room began to shake. It was our first earthquake experience and not what he was serving. I now miss both Wally and Roger, two great brothers, as well as siblings Hugh, Lloyd and Mary Lee, all who remained friends for life. May they rest in peace.
