“ Warren McMullen - the first word that comes to mind is Mentor. Warren has been a mentor both during the course of his career as a high school math teacher, and as he transitioned into our environment at Supply Technologies. He brought into our environment not only his mathematical mind but his openness to other's needs, to explain health benefits, or help deciphering and give direction. He had a pure gift of filtering out all but goodness and potential in people. He was so comfortable in his own skin, that he'd come to work in holiday costume, enjoying the smiles returned and leaving a bit more pep in our step. It has been said, "You will remember people Mostly by the way they made you feel. What a legacy Warren, thanks for your graces into our midst. Goodnight sweet prince and let the angels sing thee to thy rest.

“ Warren will be greatly missed. I feel very fortunate that we were all able to reconnect recently.

Love,
Paul and Felice
