

Wendy J. Mady

January 29, 2014

Mady, Wendy J. age 53, of NE Mpls, passed away unexpectedly on February 4th, 2014. Preceded in death by son, Jesse; brother, Tony; mother, Sharon. Survived by son, Travis P. Mady; father, Robert F. Snyder; brother, Thomas W. Snyder; grandchildren, Hunter, Sammi, Aliya, and Brooklynn; aunts, uncles, cousins and many loving friends. Service at Hillside Chapel, 2610 19th Ave. NE, Mpls Friday, Feb. 14 at 11 am with visitation 1 hour prior.

Tribute Wall

“ Carol Austerman lit a candle in memory of Wendy J. Mady ”

---

Carol Austerman - February 21, 2014 at 04:15 PM

“ Medium Dish Garden was purchased for the family of Wendy J. Mady. ”

---

February 12, 2014 at 12:31 PM

“ Dee Aitkin lit a candle in memory of Wendy J. Mady ”

---

Dee Aitkin - February 11, 2014 at 08:51 AM

“ WENDY

When my husband was in his struggling first year...Wendy was his friend. She gave him encouragement, she gave him laughs, she was always there and they became good friends. One day that was a particular hard day for him she put a book in his hands. “I friend gave this to me but now I want you to have it. “ A note said see page 132. Inside the cover, is a printed capital letters WEN, a written capital D..and a little tiny y.

Today I will spend some time exploring the most intimate human relationship I will ever have...my relationship with my self. There are many times I doubt the existence that cares about what goes on in this world, let alone my life. Being agnostic doubt comes easily to me: belief is difficult.

But then I think how someone guided me to al-anon when my life was at my darkest. I reflect on times when words and music of certain songs have given me courage to go on with life when it might have been easier to give up. I remember that I am encouraged by the honesty of people that share their innermost thoughts in Al-anon meetings, week after week, year after year. I am aware that, deep down, there is a part of me that wants what is good for me, that pushes me to seek peace, happiness, direction and wholeness in my life.

And then I doubt my doubts.

“what a lovely surprise to discover how un-lonely being alone can be.” Ellen Bernstein from “ Courage to Change.”

Thank you Wendy for being Tony’s friend, thank you for all the help you gave him, than you for the movie nights, thank you for teaching me all the back roads of Columbia Heights just to get you back and forth when I was running on fumes, Thank you for the snacks you brought when you were coming to a gathering at my house...(you know when you say you are bringing chips it doesn’t mean a snack pack size bag of super hot jalapeño), thank you for all those wake up calls and teaching me how to read a text, thank you for your laughter, thank you for trying harder when you just couldn't try anymore....I wish our God could have given you a little longer but now there is no pain anymore....and no doubt.

Your Friend,

Terrie

---

Tony Machin - February 10, 2014 at 04:57 PM

SM

“ Scott Matson lit a candle in memory of Wendy J. Mady

---

scott matson - February 10, 2014 at 12:45 PM

SM

Thanks for all the hugs!

---

scott matson - February 10, 2014 at 12:46 PM

KV

“ Kelly Varner lit a candle in memory of Wendy J. Mady

---

Kelly Varner - February 10, 2014 at 10:13 AM

SM

“ Sharon Mancuso lit a candle in memory of Wendy J. Mady

---

Sharon Mancuso - February 10, 2014 at 06:01 AM

TM

“ "Your wonderful unconditional love for all, you are a hero to many simply because they seen you never give up. I will miss your hi's and hugs at the club. The same text message every morning...that cute little good morning bear holding a bouquet of flowers. For your family I send my prayers of peace, and the ability to heal. Wendy was a bright spot in many lives for many years and I am thankful to have known her. Love you all, and God Bless you.

---

Tania Mathis - February 10, 2014 at 04:13 AM

SP

“ The invited dinners, pizza and movie nights, the way she fed my dog everything under the sun...if I was sick she brought me food and would come clean my house...by the time she left it was just as messy....her gummy worms. Her middle of the night good morning messages and our morning coffee...exchanging gifts on holidays, birthdays, and other celebrations. She gave me a Christmas card when I graduated from college...A card that I gave her lol...she was so funny that way

---

Shantel Pint - February 10, 2014 at 02:48 AM

CJ

“ Wendy, I remember So many events with YOU. You always had a hug, smile and how ya doing for any one. You would come into the store and visit on occasion, just to say Hi. There was more to You, than most people saw... we shared conversations of depth and I will miss your special moments like those and your morning and evening texts,, that shared your thinking of others.I SO hoped for more time... but the Lord has plans...and HIS WILL be done. Now there is no more pain. Illness, sorrow with Him. I PRAY PEACE and eternal love and life for you and hugs , prayers to your dad and family. God s Blessings upon you ALL,,,,, sincere regards, Cindy Jones.

---

Cindy Jones - February 10, 2014 at 02:48 AM

SP

“ Shantel Pint sent a virtual gift in memory of Wendy J. Mady

---

Shantel Pint - February 10, 2014 at 02:39 AM

SP

“ Shantel Pint lit a candle in memory of Wendy J. Mady

---

Shantel Pint - February 10, 2014 at 02:38 AM